About Finca Luna Nueva Lodge:

Boasting an intimate experience with primary rainforests, Finca Luna Nueva is a living classroom where regenerative agriculture practices are cultivated and people convene with nature.

Every day at Finca Luna Nueva is a step in the direction of greater soil fertility, healthier food, and a replenished ecosystem. Focusing on regenerative agriculture, the resort is designed to optimize photosynthesis, draw excess carbon down from the atmosphere, create carbon-rich topsoil and reverse climate change.

Instructor Jorg Stamm

We are honored to welcome the prestigious Jorg Stamm. Originally a master carpenter in Germany, Jörg started working with bamboo alongside Simón Velez in Colombia, where he now resides. He is credited for building the longest bamboo bridges in the world and for developing the reciprocal bamboo towers used to hold up Green School's largest building; the Heart of School.

He is also responsible for the realization of the Three Mountains building and Green School: an all-bamboo campus conceived by John and Cynthia Hardy.

Workshop Description

The final goal of the workshop is to build a Bird Observation Tower. The site will be ready and the bamboo will be cured before participants start their full 4 day bamboo immersion.

The workshop is divided into two groups. The first session will be taught in English only. The second session will be completely in Spanish. If you are bilingual you are welcome to join the full workshop.

The model on the picture may have slight changes, but the overall building design is what we are aiming for.
